Announce

The Queen Smith Award for Commitment to Urban Education 2014

Queen was a much loved and admired colleague who always said it like it was. She worked with many of us in key accounts, at national exhibits, and participated in all new product development discussions. She was well-known nationally in urban accounts and elsewhere. In the early 1990s, she established the Educator's Collaborative, a leadership group of national educational leaders, brought together to focus on the needs of urban schools and children. During the last several years of her life, she was a major presence in the Council of the Great City Schools and was Chair of the Urban Education Technology Form (UETF) section of the Council. She was also active in the National Alliance of Black School Educators. In 1996, Queen represented

Macmillan/McGraw-Hill on a trip to South Africa with a number of other educators to learn about their educational system and to share ideas about our system. This was a very proud moment for her.

Queen joined Macmillan/McGraw-Hill School Publishing Company in June 1989. She had been a junior high school teacher and was involved in school publishing as a sales representative, consultant, consultant manager, and a software curriculum specialist. In 1991, she served as Urban Specialist and then promoted to Vice President, Urban Sales.

The Queen Smith Award for Commitment to Urban Education was established in October 1998 in celebration for the unwavering commitment Queen gave to children, her community, and her church. During the Council's Annual Fall Conference (October 22-26) in Milwaukee, WI, $5,000 will be awarded to a teacher who has made significant contributions to education and to the community. The $5,000 award will be held Friday, October 24. Additionally, $1,000 will be awarded to the Council of Great City Schools whose programs serve as models for educating future generations.
