

Closing the Barn Doors: Updating Digital Content Procurement

Academics

Finance

Technology

Oklahoma City
PUBLIC SCHOOLS

► Our team!

Dr. Peter Liesenfeld

Chief Technology Officer

Neal Kellogg

Director of Digital Procurement and Data Privacy

“Coming together is a beginning, staying together is progress, and working together is success.”

- Henry Ford

Year 1 Goals:

Reduce the number of misaligned and under utilized programs

Improve the tracking of subscriptions and management of student data

Streamline the evaluation and integration of digital content and services.

Reduce the number of misaligned and under utilized programs.

Spring 2023:

- Academic teams reviewed over 1,200 programs and applications utilized in the 22-23 school year
- Published a list of under 200 approved programs so all stakeholders could see what is being used in the classroom

Ongoing:

- Track usage data using the Digital Insights platform
- Evaluate program effects utilizing district assessment data
- Improve non-approved program review process

Improve the tracking of subscriptions and management of student data

Make data management and privacy a priority by:

- Ensuring all subscription information is timely entered into Digital Insights for usage monitoring and ROI
- Utilizing the 1EdTech Trusted Apps Management platform to review data privacy compliance
- Identifying apps and programs which do not roster with current OKCPS systems

Future steps:

- Review/update of current district policies regarding data management/privacy.
- Reduce the number of non-automated rostering programs
- Communicate and educate

Streamline the evaluation and integration of digital content/services

A centralized request system providing:

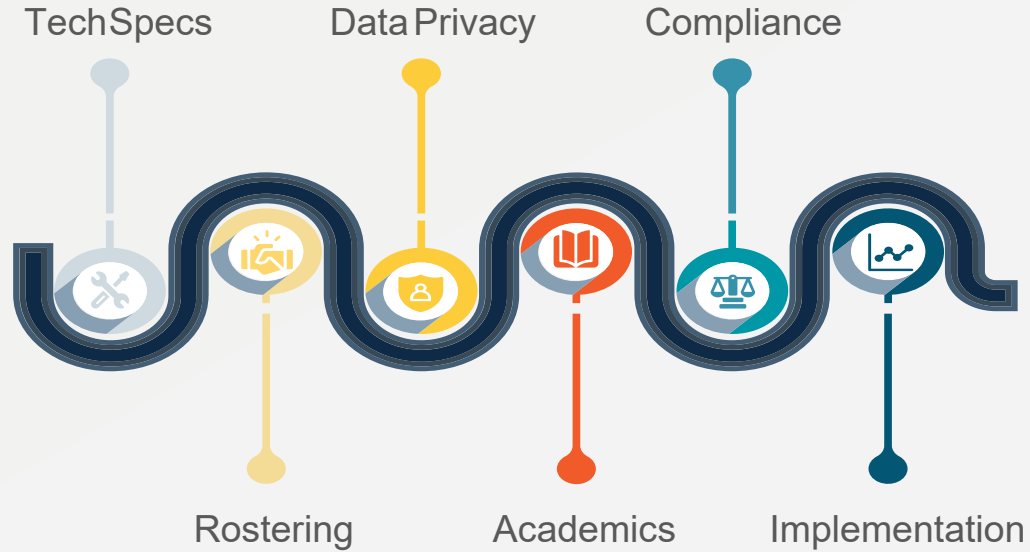

- A multi-layer review process with automated workflows
- One stop for all information regarding digital content purchasing
- Easily searchable database

Ongoing:

- Identifying the barriers to quick approvals
- Expansion for additional team participation

► Our process

▶ Building Culture

Oklahoma City

PUBLIC SCHOOLS