CALENDAR OF QUESTIONS 2013-14

A Common Core State Standards Implementation Tool for School Board Members, Superintendents, District Staff, Principals, Teachers, Counselors, Parents, and Students
Purpose

The Council of the Great City Schools (CGCS) developed this Calendar of Questions to serve as a tool for districts as they implement the Common Core State Standards. The calendar provides overarching questions that could be posed throughout the year, as well as questions for district staff and principals to consider before the school year starts. There are also questions arranged by month that focus on particular aspects of implementation for people at various levels of the district. They model how to proactively plan and monitor efforts to raise student achievement and to assess their impact throughout the organization. This is not an exhaustive list and the questions should not function as a checklist of completed tasks. The goal is to promote discussion and synchronize the work in a logical way across the organization.

Overarching questions throughout the year

- How does our implementation of common core reflect high expectations for all students and fit with all of the other major school district priorities? How do we integrate the common core with other district reform initiatives, including turnaround schools? How have we coordinated and communicated those priorities?
- What improvements to the core instructional program are needed to ensure that English Language Learners (ELLs), students with disabilities, and struggling students have access to the common core?
- What information does our school board need about the common core and our implementation progress?
- What does our central office staff, principal supervisors, and principals visit classrooms? How do we use results to enhance and support student achievement and student work?
- What implementation successes are we seeing in classrooms? How are we using multiple measures of student progress?
- How often do central office staff, principal supervisors, and principals visit classrooms? How do we use results to enhance and support student achievement and student work?
- What implementation successes are we seeing in classrooms? How are we using multiple measures of student progress?
- What is my strategy for implementing the common core? How far along are we in the implementation process?
- How do I ensure that ELLs, students with disabilities, and struggling students have access to rigorous content and instruction?
- How will we gauge implementation? What is our evidence? What changes do we need to make in our work?
- How do I gauge the implementation of common core instructional shifts in content areas outside of English language arts and math?
- How am I supporting collaborative planning and the review of student work to check our progress in implementing the common core?
- As I consider my instructional and support staff, who already has a deep understanding of common core and who needs additional support? How do I know? How will I provide additional learning opportunities for those who need them? How will I build a strong team with a shared understanding of the standards and the instructional shifts necessary to implement them?

Questions for district staff before the school year starts

- How well do we understand the rationale of the common core and how instruction and assessment must change for all students to be successful?
- What information do we need to gather to keep the superintendent and school board aware of implementation progress?
- In selecting materials for classroom use, how are we utilizing the free Toolkit for Evaluating Alignment of Instructional and Assessment Materials?
- In mathematics, how have we revised pacing guides and scope and sequence documents to place more time and greater focus on common core standards at each grade level?
- In English language arts and literacy, how have we revised pacing guides and scope and sequence documents to reflect the appropriate balance of informational and literary texts?
- How have all instructional departments modified documents to ensure that they guide teachers on implementing common core instructional shifts?
- Have we studied sample common core-aligned tests and prototype items? What implications do they have for curriculum and professional development support for general education programming? What implications do they have for the instruction and assessment of special populations?

Questions for principals before the school year starts

- What improvements to the core instructional program are needed to ensure that English Language Learners (ELLs), students with disabilities, and struggling students have access to the common core?
- What is my strategy for implementing the common core? How far along are we in the implementation process?
- How do I ensure that ELLs, students with disabilities, and struggling students have access to rigorous content and instruction?
- As I consider my instructional and support staff, who already has a deep understanding of common core and who needs additional support? How do I know? How will I provide additional learning opportunities for those who need them? How will I build a strong team with a shared understanding of the standards and the instructional shifts necessary to implement them?
- How will I work with my faculty to promote classroom environments conducive to learning and where students are eager to engage in challenging work?

An electronic copy of this Calendar of Questions and additional resources are available at www.commoncoreworks.org.
How well do we understand the rationale for the common core and the implications it has for preparing our students for college and careers? What additional information do we need?

What is the district’s strategy for implementing the common core? Does this strategy address the needs of diverse learners?

Do our statements and policies clearly indicate that the common core is a priority for our district? How?

Do we have clear, accessible talking points about the common core and our implementation process? How well do we understand these talking points?

What is our strategic plan for internal and external communications about the common core?

Have we made the CGCS three-minute videos in English and Spanish available to our schools, community, and the media?

Have we circulated the Parent Roadmaps to parents and schools to explain grade-level expectations for student learning? How will we circulate the parent and student sections of the Calendar of Questions?

How clear is our implementation strategy to staff throughout the organization? How do we know?

Are there other departments and staff using this calendar of questions to inform their work?

If we are adopting new materials this year, do staff members and teachers responsible for selecting those materials have in-depth training on common core requirements and the Publishers’ Criteria?

What guidance will we give teachers on how to work with students who may not meet grade-level expectations?

How well have we aligned financial and human resources, professional development, and other supports so that teachers, principals, and administrators are able to apply the instructional shifts?

How many of our staff members and teachers lack high quality training on the common core? How do we respond? What is our plan for evaluating the effects of our professional development?

What is our onboarding process for new hires and does it adequately incorporate the common core? How can we engage our university partners in teacher preparation for the common core?

How well can I explain the rationale and the main instructional shifts required by the common core to parents and faculty?

How do I strengthen my own understanding?

Have I ensured that faculty will be working together this year and that student work and classroom practices will reflect the shifts required by common core?

How will I review and use the Parent Roadmaps and Calendar of Questions with my faculty and discuss implications for our work this year?

Are we using the Publishers’ Criteria to inform my school’s purchasing decisions and to assess our current materials?

How will I ensure that parents know how to contact their child’s teachers for additional support?

How will I collaborate with other principals in implementing the common core?

Do we have a clear, accessible talking points about the common core and our implementation process? How well do we understand these talking points?

What is our strategic plan for internal and external communications about the common core?

Have we made the CGCS three-minute videos in English and Spanish available to our schools, community, and the media?

What performance indicators are we using?

What are the administration’s next steps in implementing the common core?

Superintendent and Cabinet Staff

How is our implementation of the common core progressing?

What performance indicators are we using?

What are our next steps?

Senior Instructional and Operational Staff

How effectively is our cross-functional team working together to meet their goals?

How do we ensure that the budget for next year prioritizes common core implementation?

What is the status of our common core implementation in general education, special education, gifted education, and for English language learners? What evidence do we have?

What lessons are we learning from this year?

What are we hearing from teachers and principals in the field and what are we doing about it?

How will this information impact budget planning, development and training on the use of technology, support for teachers, principals and students, and preliminary summer school plans?

Communications Staff

How do we use parent and community feedback to inform our communications strategy?

Has the central office updated us on common core developments? How will we use this information in our internal and external communications?

Principals

What evidence do I see of the following practices?

- Students reading and understanding grade-level texts with teacher support
- Students using academic language in both oral and written responses
- Students connecting concepts across science, math, the arts, and social studies classes
- Students justifying their answers by citing evidence from the text and elaborating on their reasoning

As the semester comes to an end, am I confident that my staff can implement the common core according to plan? Do I need to make staffing changes?

How are central and area offices responding to my concerns as well as those of my faculty?

Teachers

How am I informally assessing students’ use of academic vocabulary in discussions and in their writing? What do I need to do if they are struggling in this area?

How am I advancing close reading in the classroom with all students in the content areas I teach? What student performance measures am I using?

As a school, how are we providing opportunities for students to explore science, math, the arts, and social studies concepts?

What is the quality of student work indicating to me about their learning and my teaching? What instructional adjustments do I need to make?

Are there additional intervention strategies that I need to put into place for struggling students? How do I continue to challenge students who are excelling?

How are the principal and the district responding to the concerns I have voiced?

Counselors/Support Staff

Have I scheduled conferences with struggling students? What are those conferences indicating about how I can assist my students and involve their parents?

What additional parent outreach efforts should I conduct?

Parents

What is my child’s report card telling me about his or her progress?

What questions do I have for my child’s teachers?

What are some enjoyable activities we can do over the holiday break that can reinforce what my child is learning in school?

Students

What is my report card telling me about my progress?

What questions do I have for my teachers and my counselor about my progress?

What can I do to improve next semester?
How are parents and the community responding to the changes the district is making in our classrooms? How should the district address their concerns?

As we consider the budget for next school year, what data do we need to inform our planning?

What data do we need to begin planning for summer schools?

What changes have we made to our common core implementation plan based on the data we have? How will these changes impact budget forecasting and technology needs for the upcoming semester, summer school, and next school year?

What additional intervention strategies do we need to consider for the remainder of the school year?

As we prepare for year-end testing, how are we maintaining an emphasis on common core instructional shifts? How have we communicated this information to principals, teachers, the community, and parents?

What are our plans for moving common core implementation forward over the summer and fall and for preparing for more rigorous assessments in 2014-15?

Have we allocated the funds necessary to complete our summer and fall plans?

How have we articulated for the community the ways common core standards support current state testing and college and career readiness assessments?

How have we built progress updates on the common core into our regular communications tools, such as newsletters and social media?

What is the status of our common core outreach efforts to city hall, religious organizations, the business community, parents, and advocacy groups?

Have we reviewed my student progress data?

Based on that data, what adjustments to my instructional practice do I need to make? What additional supports do I need? What further interventions would benefit my students?

To what extent are my students progressing in their ability to read and understand increasingly complex text? Are they becoming more adept with text-dependent questions? What do I need to do if they are not?

How do I ensure that students are becoming less reliant on my support and are developing greater confidence and skills?

As I advance student reading and writing in my subject area, am I emphasizing academic vocabulary, grammar, usage, punctuation, and mechanics? Am I emphasizing math fluency and vocabulary appropriate for my grade level?

How am I building review and reflection into my daily work to help students remember and connect what they have learned?

What can I do to help my child achieve in school?

Is my child able to complete homework independently?

What have I learned from my child's teacher and counselor about his or her academic needs and progress?

What are my learning goals for the second semester? What are my plans for meeting them?

How will I know I am improving?
School Board Members
- How is the administration moving forward with common core implementation?
- Is the district ready for more rigorous assessments in 2014-15?
- How are we ensuring that our summer school program will emphasize the instructional shifts required by the common core?
- Is our budget planning proceeding at the right pace?

Superintendent and Cabinet Staff
- How is our work on the common core supporting student achievement on current state assessments?
- Are we continuing our school visits? What are we learning from them?
- Are the common core instructional shifts evident in classroom practice and student work, particularly with ELLs, students with disabilities, and struggling students? How are we communicating these successes? How will we address areas of need?
- How do our summer school plans need to be revised based on what we see from our benchmarks, site visits, and ongoing evaluations?

Senior Instructional and Operational Staff
- What successes in implementing the common core can we share with the community and other school districts?
- Have our outreach efforts resulted in greater support for the district's common core implementation? How do we know?

Communications Staff
- Is my staff collaborating effectively to integrate the instructional shifts required by the common core?
- How can I ensure that collaborative planning time is yielding effective results? How am I measuring effectiveness? How often do I check progress?
- How are students responding to the academic and behavioral interventions we have put into place?

Principals
- How am I contributing to the collaborative planning process? What impact has our team made on classroom practice and student work? How do we know?
- How are we addressing the needs of our ELLs, students with disabilities, gifted students, and struggling students?
- What improvements are my students making as a result of the academic and behavioral interventions or supports I am using?
- What additional data do I need to assess student progress?

Teachers
- Am I checking in periodically with students about their learning goals? What am I doing about it?
- How have students receiving interventions and supports improved?
- Am I meeting my learning goals? What else can I do to improve?
- Do I feel more confident doing work on my own?
